

PREPARING FUTURE TEACHERS – Educating for democracy and human rights

For more information: eng.theewc.org/Western-Balkans

This 3-year project provides support for higher education institutions and universities in Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo*, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Serbia, that are interested in modernizing their teacher education modules.

Following the important steps already taken by Western Balkan countries to modernize school curricula, a key endeavor is to develop and pilot new and innovative teacher education modules, emphasizing practice-oriented teaching promoting citizenship, democracy and human rights.

Through regional network meetings, trainings and study visits, the project offers a platform for cooperation and exchange among universities, higher education institutions and other actors involved in teacher training.

*All references to Kosovo, whether to the territory, institution or population in the text shall be understood in full compliance with the UN Security Council Resolution 1244 and without prejudice of the status of Kosovo.

PREPARING FUTURE TEACHERS – Educating for democracy and human rights

For more information: eng.theewc.org/Western-Balkans

The project is implemented by the European Wergeland Centre in cooperation with the Zurich University for Teacher Education; 12 universities, governmental institutions and NGOs working with teacher education in the region.

The project is financed by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs Norway.

The The European Wergeland Centre is an international resource centre promoting education for democratic citizenship, human rights and intercultural understanding. It was established by Norway and the Council of Europe in 2010.

Questions? Contact us at:

Jennie Holck-Clausen: j.holck-clausen@theewc.org (Project manager, Oslo)

Bojana Dujkovic Blagojevic: b.dujkovic@theewc.org (Regional project coordinator, Banja Luka)